Why Gold?

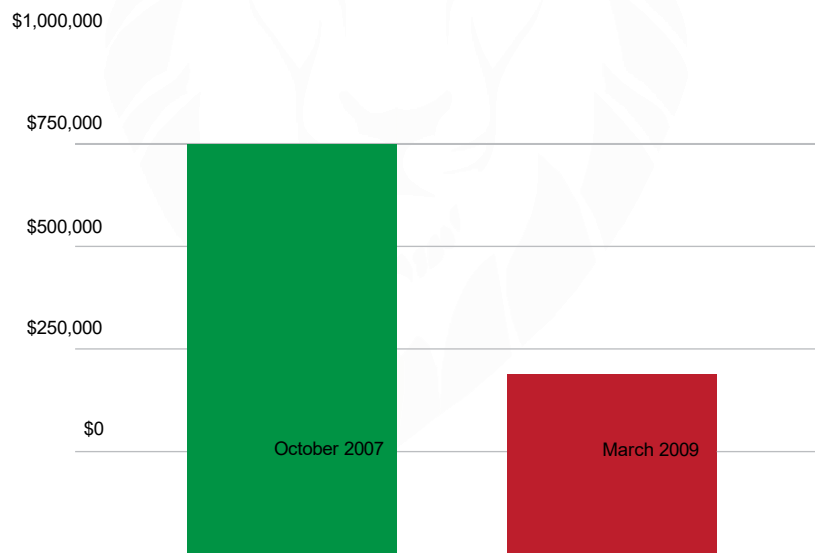

Gold has a rich history spanning across the globe, and it's been seen as a reliable store of value for millennia. It was first used in gold coins in 650 B.C., but thousands of years later, gold is still seen as a key piece of a balanced, diversified portfolio today.

With the 2020 crash and recent volatility in the stock market, we've seen just how quickly retirement accounts can tumble when you least expect it. In March 2020, Americans could have lost 33% of their value in just a few short weeks. In 2008, many saw their retirement accounts drop over 50%.

Imagine you're approaching retirement age with $1 million in your IRA. Then just as you're preparing to enjoy your golden years, a stock market crash erases over half of your hard-earned savings.

Now that $1 million has been cut down to under $440,000 for you and your partner to live off of for decades.

$1M Retirement Account During 2008 Crash

Unfortunately, this was the reality for many Americans around 2008.

However, the reasons for a market crash like this can span far beyond a housing crisis or a pandemic.

The causes of volatility are widespread: inflation, political turmoil, social unrest. These are just the ones we've seen in recent years.

That's why many recommend investing a portion of your portfolio into physical gold, which has historically held its ground or even produced gains when the stock market collapses.

Worst Years in the Stock Market
	S&P 500 ³	GOLD ⁴
1974	-29.72%	72.01%
1977	-11.50%	19.69%
2001	-13.04%	1.62%
2002	-23.37%	20.33%
2008	-38.49%	8.29%

Who Recommends Gold?

It's estimated that around 12% of people in the United States own gold today. That means millions are investing in the precious metal to help protect their savings against potential crashes in the market.

The list of respected economists, entrepreneurs, and financial figures who recommend owning gold is a long one.

Here are just a few notable examples of those who support keeping a portion of your portfolio in gold to protect your wealth:

Alan Greenspan, the former Federal Reserve Chairman has said, "Gold still represents the ultimate form of payment in the world. Fiat money in extremis is accepted by nobody. Gold is always accepted."

John Paulson, of Paulson & Co, has been called “one of the most prominent names in finance,” earning almost $4 billion after betting against the housing market during the 2008 crash. His single largest holding is now in gold and he even started his own gold fund.

J.P. Morgan, the famous financier and banker even endorsed the precious metal, saying, “Gold and silver is money, everything else is credit.”

When people lose confidence in governments and currencies, they always go to gold and silver,” Rogers told ETNOW in an interview.

Ray Dalio, founder of the world’s top hedge fund, Bridgewater Associates is no stranger to gold. In 2016, Dalio is quoted saying “If you don’t own gold, you know neither history nor economics.”

What is a Gold IRA?

If you’re familiar with standard IRAs, gold IRAs work in a similar way. They hold the same contribution limits each year, distribution rules at retirement, and perhaps most importantly, tax benefits.

However, unlike other types of retirement accounts, self-directed IRAs allow you to hold physical gold and other assets instead of just stocks and bonds.

This gives you much more flexibility to diversify across asset classes and can help protect your hard-earned assets during uncertain times.

In addition to gold, these IRAs also allow you to hold gold stocks, gold mutual funds, gold ETFs, and even other specific types of precious metals.

Gold IRAs can be relatively simple to set up and fund, and we’ve helped thousands of our customers navigate this process to help deliver nearly a billion dollars worth of gold and silver and counting.

Precious Metals Valuations

The valuations of precious metals shown on your statement are based on spot value, which is the current spot price multiplied by the ounces of fine metal contained in the coin or bar. Spot values do not include any premiums, mark-ups, mark-downs or commissions. Spot values should be used as an indication of value only and should not be construed as a firm bid price to buy from any broker or dealer. The actual precious metals type and quantity in a transaction may affect the price received for any given bullion item. Price indications for specific bullion products may be obtained from various sources including your Senior Account Executive at Global Coin & Currency.

The depository requires that proof coins be encapsulated in complete, original mint packaging, including certificate of authenticity, and be in excellent condition. Non-proof coins must be in Brilliant Uncirculated condition and free from damage.

In addition to your account statements, spot price is also used to report the fair market value of your account to the IRS.
